

MOTHER'S DAY - 2020

I am one of many mothers
There are lots and lots of others
But each Mum is special
To her daughters and her sons

My sons, today I cannot kiss you
Or hug you close to me
But in my mind are memories
That set my spirit free
Of happy days, like sunshine rays,
That help to keep my powder dry
Until the day when all of this
We know will go away

We must be strong and sing a song
And do our best to live
As in our hearts we know there is Still so much we want to give

So, mothers, sons and daughters
Today, don't cry or frown
Walk in your mind through all the good times
Don't let this get you down

Think of that laughter, think of that fun
'Cos when this thing is past
Again we'll share all this with them
'Cos love will always last
